ZERO capital investment

Unlike our competitors we will not hit you with a hefty set up fee. Fastetickets has been designed to increase your revenue in these difficult times not help you spend it. Our income is derived from a small booking fee that is added to each transaction. You are also able to take a percentage of the booking fee if desired as an additional profit centre.

Instant ticket revenue

Fastetickets enhances cashflow and cuts down on costly reconciliation processes. Our cutting edge technology ensures that you get paid the instant the customer books the ticket. Not only that but you can also set up instant payments for event partners who are also due a share of the revenue, artists, promoters etc.

Integrated CRM and Marketing functionality

Generating additional income from existing customers is where Fastetickets is head and shoulders above the competition. You have access to all previous sales data so that you can search and refine your next promotional mailing based on customer buying profiles. Simply target potential customers for a new event and then e- mail or text them directly from the system.

Multi-lingual, multi-currency

Life would be simple if we had a global currency but as we all know through experience many of the visitors that attend UK shows and events plan and book the event in advance from their home country. Fastetickets accepts over 100 payment options in all major currencies and automatically exchanges and deposits your preferred currency into your account.

Maximize revenue through additional sales catalogues, souvenirs etc.

Research has proven that one of the best times to increase customer basket spend is right at the initial Point of Purchase. That's why Fastetickets gives you the power to sell multiple event related items on screen during the transaction. The multipurpose ticket and 2D barcode can then be used to electronically verify the purchase at time of collection by your customer.

No in-house server or internal IT set-up required

Our business revolves around technology but we don't expect yours too. That's why Fastetickets is hosted on the Microsoft Azure cloud in a high security, resilient data centre. This not only means that your system is protected from hackers but also that you do not need to have any in-house IT experience or IT hardware specifically for your ticketing system even though you can administer it from any internet connected PC. An additional benefit is that being on the cloud gives us the capacity to turn on virtually unlimited processor power in a matter of minutes if needed to prevent the "website unavailable" horror stories often associated with the first on-sale date of a large event.

The Fastetickets digital ticketing solution has been developed in response to our clients needs and that's why it works so effectively for them.

Cash flow is enhanced, partner payments are automated and on-going marketing is made so much easier with an integrated CRM system.

Enhanced features such as discount voucher codes, android ticket scanning for external events and the ability to have a single ticket that covers a group booking have all helped to ensure we have the edge when it comes to ticketing solutions.
